For terms apply to of the Government have, hiwover, with great sanction an assumption so incompatibals with the nature of our Republican system, and with the professed objects of the way. Throughout theregent legislation of Congress, the underinble fact ! makes itself apparent that these ten nolitical coninquities are nothing less than bintes of this Union. At the very commencement of the rehelling each house declared, with a unanimity as remarkthis go it was significant, that the war was not "waged, upon our part, in any spirit of onpression, nor for any purpose of sonquest or subin ratios, not purpose of overthrowing or interfering with the rights or established institutions of those States, but to defend and maintain the supromacy of the Constitution and all laws made. in nursuance thereof, and to progress the Union with all the dignity, equality, and rights of the several States unimpaired; and that as sonn as these objects" were "non-molished the war ought to seaso." In some instances, senators were permitted to continue their leg stative functions, while in other instances representatives were elected and admitted to sent- after their States had formally declared their right to withdraw from the Union, and were endeavouring to. maintain that right by force of arms. All of the States whose people were in insurrection, as States, were included in the appartiusment of the direct tax of $20,000;000 andually haid upon the United States by the Act approved 5th Auritet, 1881. Congress, by the act of March 4, 1862, and by the apportionment of representation thereunder, also recognised their presence as States in the Union; and they have, for Judicial pur ppaes, been divided in o districts, as States alone ! can be divided. The same recognition appears in the regent legislation in reference to Tannesses. | sisting of Dwelling House and apsolous Godowns. which ovidently rests upon the fact that the fundtions of the States were; not destroyed by the rehellion, but marely suspended and that principle | Me-ers, II. Jungane & Co. is of course applicable to those States which, like Tennessee, attempted to renounce their places in the Union. The action of the executive department of the Government upon this subject has been equally definite and uniform; and the purnose of the war was specifically stated in the proglamation issued by my predecessor on the moderate.

22nd day of September, 1863. It was then solemaly proplaimed and declared that "hereafter, as heretofore, the war will be prosecuted for the object of practically restoring the constitutional relation between the United States, and each of the States and the people thereof, in which States that relation is or may be suspended or disturbed." The recognition of the States by the judicial department of the Government has also been clear and conclusive in all proceedings af-feeting thom as States, and in the aupreme, cir-cult, and district courts.

If the admission of loyal members to seats in the respective Houses of flongress was wise and expedient a year ago. it is no less wise and expedient now. If this unomalous oundition is right now-if, in the exact |condition of these states at the present time, it is lawful to exclude them from representation-I do not see that the question will be changed by the offing of time.
